

GERTRUDE'S artist salon at the Mills

With special guest hosts Emily Eveleth and Penn Young
Friday, March 28 | 7pm

We are pleased to present the second in our new series of semi-monthly get-togethers in GERTRUDE'S, our salon for informal artist-generated/artist-hosted conversations at the BCA's Mills Gallery. This event will be co-hosted by artists Emily Eveleth and Penn Young.

The event is free, and all are welcome.

FOR ARTISTS - IN ADVANCE OF THE MARCH 28TH MEETING - YOUR ASSIGNMENT FOR THIS EVENING, SHOULD YOU CHOOSE TO ACCEPT IT, FOLLOWS:

Submit an image of a work by another artist that you have learned something from, and come prepared to talk to the group about what you have learned. We are not looking for submissions of works that were used as source material, and we will try to put the submissions in an interesting order. We will try to use them all, though time may not allow that.

Emily and Penn's Ground Rules -

- Bonus points if the work is not in your usual medium;
- Double bonus points if the work was made prior to 1964;
- Triple bonus points if the work is from another continent;
- Submitting more than one image of the same work is okay if alternate views or details are needed. We reserve the right to limit the number of images per person;
- Attribution info must be included with submission; and
- Last but not least, think of what you're doing as opening the door to a group conversation, rather than giving a presentation. So don't feel that you'll need to say more than a few words and perhaps answer a question or two.

Thanks.

Emily Eveleth and Penn Young
